

The Ultimate Close-Out Sale 2005 Bordeaux Madness

Perhaps the only positive result of the “Great Recession” has been falling fine wine prices. This is, of course, only positive if you are a consumer, not a producer. Green’s looks high and low for “special situations”, by that I mean wholesalers who need cash, and we have found a beauty on 2005 Bordeaux. That’s right 2005, not 2006, 2007, or 2004, but one of the great vintages of this decade. Someone had too many and it was the end of the year. They were more interested in the cash kind of liquidity, not the wine kind. Naturally, we helped them out.

The critics have raved over this vintage:

“...this is the greatest vintage produced during my 30-year career.”-Robert Parker

“The (2005 Bordeaux) reds are some of the best I have tasted in my career.”-The Wine Spectator

When critics start saying this “best in my career” stuff, it’s time to sit up and pay attention.

Many of you have already purchased 2005’s from Green’s. We have not previously sold any of the following wines offered on this sale. It is all “fresh game”, so to speak. This is probably the last chance you will have to buy wines from this vintage on the cheap. Hurry, supplies, as always, are limited.
